What Scott's Emulsion Has Done

Over 25 Years in 10 Weeks. Experience of a Prominent Officer.

I took a severe cold upon my chest and lungs and did not give it proper attention; it developed into bronchitis, and in the fall of the same year I was threatened with consumption. Physicians ordered me to a more congenial climate, and I came to San Francisco. Soon after my arrival I commenced taking Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites regularly three times a day. In ten weeks my avarid lungs went from 155 to 180 pounds and over; the cough meantime ceased.

AN OLD SALT'S YARN.

New Peter Johnson Was Used as a Plug to Stop a Leak on Shipboard.

Old Peter Johnson, a familiar "landmark" of South street, and who, in the memory of the oldest dock hand in this city, has never been known to stir away from his seat on an old box at the corner of South street and Coenties slip, tells the New York Evening Sun a most remarkable tale of the troubles through which he had to pass to become an American citizen, and to run away from his birthplace in Sweden.

It seems that Peter, whose name is not Peter at all, but some thing in which all the letters in the alphabet are combined, was born in a little hamlet in Sweden. Ever since he first read a translation of "Robinson Crusoe," at the age of ten, Peter had a violent passion for the sea. One day he heard of America. He asked how far off this great land might be, and his father replied that it was on the other side of the great Irish sea and across the Atlantic. The next day Peter made up a little bundle of necessities and started off to find this glorious El Dorado. He reached Leds, a small fishing port on the coast of Sweden.

Walking along the wharves he saw a bark of about eight hundred tons that was advertised to start for New York on that very day. He had never heard of New York, but as he clambered over the port rail of the little ship he blindly hoped that it was somewhere near his goal. On board he found all deserted. By accident Peter stumbled into the hold of the ship. He secreted himself among a number of barrels, and as he was very tired he fell asleep. About ten hours afterward he was awakened by a peculiar clanking noise. The ship was rolling horribly. Her wooden sides were being strained to the utmost extent, and Peter's heart stood still.

"Well, the end of it was," said the old man last evening to the writer, "that I went on deck. I was a mighty sick colicose, I can tell you. But I wasn't too sick to see that something horrid had happened. The cap'n stood near the wheel looking hopelessly toward shore, and didn't even notice me. The sea was runnin' high. A heavy gale had caught us to leeward and we had sprung a leak. Our ship was pretty fast and we were out of sight of land. The leak was a big one and our ship was fillin' fast. All the men were at work at the pumps, but the water was gainin' on 'em and they were losin' heart and hope. When the cap saw me he didn't fire off and cat-tail me. No; he just caught me by the shoulder here and he just looked up to Heaven this way, and he just said, 'Thank God! sorter happy like.'

"Then he hurried me down into the hold and then he said somethin' to one of the men as was at the pumps. The man went away, but he soon come back 'n told the cap that all was right.

"Then the cap'n took me down into the bow of the old hulk. That's where 'she'd sprung a leak. There was a hole 'bout the size of your body on the starboard side. The cap'n, he and the man then cotched me up, 'n mates, would you believe it! they just stuck me in 'that hole up to my armpits, they did, blast me if they didn't! It was mighty uncomfortable to me, but it stopped the water from flowin' in. After a while the water was all pumped out, 'n then the carpenter fixed the hole. For my part of the work the cap'n gave me free passage, and here I am."

And then Peter Johnson closed his teeth on an old clay pipe, nor would he open them again to say one word in explanation of his strange adventure.

A CHEMICAL RACKET.

It Was Good, But Didn't Work to Every Body's Satisfaction.

Said a druggist to a Chicago Tribune reporter: "A commercial traveler whose business is selling baking-powder of a low grade was in a quandary what to do. His customers saw the analytic comparison by diagrams in newspapers and naturally would want the purest. In his dilemma he came to me to ask if I could not put up some chemical dodge on the other fellow to get even for the advertisement. I mixed him a compound and gave him strict instructions how to use it. By a little sleight-of-hand trick he could pour the contents out of a bottle into a glass of water and it would turn black or green, as he desired. I advised him to call for the green color when professing to analyze any of the admittedly purest baking-powders, but when testing those which rivalled his own imperfect goods then he should shake the water until it was black as ink. Of course, you understand his own powder would always call for the green color."

"I didn't see my friend for some time afterward, and then I was surprised to see him carrying a grip of shoe samples. He told me he had quit selling baking-powder, that there was nothing in the business and that he had a better thing of it in shoes."

"How did the chemical racket work?" I asked.

"Don't say any thing about it—that confounded thing bust up the whole business."

"How was that?" I inquired.

"Well, if you won't give me away I'll tell you. You see I went into a store where I had never called before and saw a number of show-cards of various baking-powders hanging on the walls. I commenced the usual story about the superiority of our goods over all competitors, and when the proper time came produced a bottle of mixture and asked for a spoonful of each kind of powder they had in stock."

"The clerk smiled rather wickedly as he gave it to me, but I didn't tumble worth a cent. I went through the whole magic performance, turned one black, another green, another dark green, and so on, when a man stepped out from behind the counter."

"What blamed foolishness is this?" he asked, rather savagely.

"I assured him that it was a chemical test which had cost the house thousands of dollars to have made."

"Chemical fiddlers! Leave your samples right here, sir," he added, "and I will write Mr. Smith (the cashier at our house) to pay your salary due and you may go, sir. I am Dr. —"

"Great Scott! Here was the inventor of the baking-powder himself—my employer—whom I had never seen, and I had been trying to work the cheap Jack dodge on him. Every ounce of the powder I had been experimenting upon was our own manufacture."

Sales of Public Lands.

For the fiscal year 1887-8 the sales of public lands in this country amounted to $11,000,000, compared with $9,000,000 for the year previous, and $5,000,000 for each of the two preceding years. As early as 1856, the New York Commercial Bulletin, the land sales rose nearly to $9,000,000, but then they fell off and went as low as $150,000 in 1860, and never rose above $4,000,000 again for twenty years. In 1869 they again reached nearly $5,000,000; in 1878, nearly $6,000,000; in 1884, nearly $10,000,000, and then after two years at $5,000,000 they began to rise, and for the year just closed reached their highest mark.

THE CENTURY

MAGAZINE in 1889.

WHY Has it such an enormous circulation? Experts estimate that between two and three millions of people read each number.

BECAUSE The CENTURY is above every thing a leader. It led the development of wood-engraving in America, and it has fostered American writers. It is alive to the issues of to-day. What it prints sets people to thinking and talking.

BECAUSE Whatever other periodicals may come into the family, the great reading world has found out that "no household can keep abreast of the times without THE CENTURY." Its success is explained by its contents.

BECAUSE The greatest writers of the world like to have their work read by the greatest number, and therefore to such a magazine as THE CENTURY the best naturally comes. It is THE CENTURY that General Grant first wrote his reminiscences of important battles.

BECAUSE It is publishing the life of private secretary of a President who has been said "the young man who is not reading it robs himself of that which he will hunger for." The coming year presents the most important part of this great history, which may begin at any time.

BECAUSE It is printing those remarkable articles on "Alberca and the Galile system," by George Kennan, which are attracting universal attention and are being reprinted in hundreds of foreign newspapers, but are not allowed to enter Russia. The "Chicago Tribune" says that "no other magazine articles printed in the English language just now touch upon a subject which so vitally interests all thoughtful people in Europe and America and Asia." They are as judicious as the opinion of a Supreme Court tribunal—as thrilling as the most sensational drama.

BECAUSE During 1889 THE CENTURY has had a series of engravings of the greatest pictures of the old Italian masters, made by Timothy Cole, the leading wood-engraver in the world, who has spent four years in Italy on this work; a series of "Strange True Stories of Louisiana," by Geo. W. Cable; occasional richly illustrated papers describing the scenes of the current international Sunday-school lessons; interesting illustrated papers on Ireland, and a series of humorous and pathetic Irish-American stories; a striking illustrated novelette, "The Romance of Dollars," by a new writer, and other novelties to be announced later; supplementary papers, untechnical and descriptive of special interests; "Pictures of the Far West," by Mary Hallack Root, etc. etc. We have no space here to announce all the new features. Let us send you (free) our "Catalogue of Special Publications," with original illustrations containing full prospectus, special offer of back numbers to the beginning of the Siberian papers, etc. The November number, which is now on hand, is for sale everywhere after November 1st. THE CENTURY costs 5 cents a number, $4 a year. Address: THE CENTURY CO., 25 East 17th street, New York.

5 O'CLOCK EDITION.

A Patent Sermon for a Practical People.

The mission of journalism is a theme upon which much has been written from first to last, and yet it is one that is far from being exhausted. Interwoven as it is with all the affairs of a civilized people, it is justly entitled to their earnest consideration. It is not our purpose at this time to dilate upon this subject; but an idea bearing upon it does occasionally find its way into our mental store-house, and once there it "rests uneasy as the head that wears a crown," until it gets out.

It may be accepted as true, that the character of a local journal is the measure of the enterprise of the town in which it is published. A wide-awake, go-ahead people will not tolerate a wishy-washy, rapid newspaper. Nor will a keen-witted, enterprising publisher waste his energies and his money in a dead or moribund town. A generous and appreciative public and a well-conducted paper must co-exist in a community that is thoroughly prosperous.

Gauged by this rule, Reno may be set down as a tolerably prosperous town. Its citizens, as a body, are intelligent and appreciative, and it has at least one live journal—our spicily morning contemporary. Of the GAZETTE, our modesty forbids us to speak, further than to say that our best and continuous efforts will be employed to place it in the van, and keep it there. But it is not enough to be passably good, passably virtuous, or passably useful in this progressive age; we reach for the superlative. Onward and upward are the talismanic words that lead to greatness. The successful general fellows up a victory. Apply this maxim to your town and to your individual affairs. Don't sleep on laurels won, when there are so many agencies at work to wrest them from you. Strike for further conquests, and remember that your best weapons are your local journals.

If you would learn what is transpiring anywhere on this little planet of ours, read the Morning Journal or the EVENING GAZETTE, or both. If you would have the "world know who you are, where you are and what you are doing, advertise. If you have an article to sell and seek a buyer, advertise. If you are in want of a thing and don't know where to look for it, advertise. In short, advertise every thing in which the general public is interested.

We are aware that the editor is a near approach to the saint who watches over human destinies; that it is he who champions the right and fights the wrong, and we take this occasion to remind our friends that in this, as in all great wars, the "sins of war" are needed to insure success. See the point?

We are not insensible to the many favors extended to the GAZETTE by the people of Nevada during its existence under the present management. Our success has exceeded our highest expectations. But we are not content to rest so long as there is a higher plane to be reached or a broader field to work in. Our field shall widen as our opportunities grow, or, in plainer English, our diligence and our usefulness shall increase as our facilities and our patronage increase.

We have tried to make clear the obligations which should exist between the citizens of a town and its local papers. What we have said in behalf of the latter applies with much, though perhaps not equal, force to the mechanic, the merchant and the professional man of your town. As citizens of the same town there is a mutuality of interests which are best sustained by co-operative effort. If you want a pair of boots, patronize your local boot-maker.

If you need any article of trade or traffic not manufactured in your town, go to some one of your local merchants. They are all up with the times and keep everything required, from a button to a bridal trousseau. Don't run down to "the city by the sea," at the risk of catching the measles, the whooping cough, the cholera infantum, or something worse, with the fallacious idea that you will save a nickel or get a better article. If you are "kilt and want law," don't go abroad for a lawyer. We can name a half-dozen here whose heads are filled with the subtle fluid, and this they will dispense with an ease and grace that will cause you to wish you had been born with a lawsuit on your hands—all men whose staying qualities will be limited only by the pesos in your pocket and the sand in your crop. If, perchance, you should require the services of a physician or surgeon, and have as much as a backbone left to build upon, you need not go out of Reno to find the one you want. And lastly, if "in the course of human events," you should need any job printing done, any cards, circulars, bill heads, posters or pamphlets, come to the GAZETTE office. By doing this your slumbers will be restful, your dreams ecstatic, and you will be solid with all the saints.

If some of the sisters will start the tune, we will now unite in singing that favorite old hymn, so applicable on this occasion:

"Little drops of water, little grains of sand,
Make the mighty ocean and the pleasant land."

ANOTHER week of the fourteenth session of the Nevada Legislature has closed and still nothing done.

The McAllister-Meyers Bill.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—The dispatches from Milwaukee says that McAllister is desirous of having another fight with Meyers in San Francisco, under the auspices of the California Athletic Club. "If that institution will put up a purse we will fight for the stakes now up, and a purse besides; that will be a nice little pot," he says. In the meantime, while the two gladiators are trying to arrange for a whack at the San Francisco sports' dollars, the Chicago contingent continues to denounce the so-called Indiana fight.

The Tribune has the following interview with a well-known man who attended the fight: "I have often wondered how long the people would consent to be gulled. Prize fighting is a queer fake. There never was a sporting event, except a special horse race, when as much as $5,000 was put up to stay. It is pulled down within an hour after the time it goes up. They all talk about Billy Madden's bad management; I tell you he is the smoothest duck, next to Pat Sheehy, in the sporting line, so far as making money is concerned. But about the fight; there was no fight—there was no intention of having a fight. The boys went down there for the gate money. They are now talking about having another fight. Well, the suckers will bite again."

Window Smiled.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The Commercial Advertiser prints the following interview with ex-Senator Windom of Minnesota:

"I cannot deny or affirm that I am going into General Harrison's Cabinet, but I will say that when I return to New York the Cabinet slate will be made out completely."

"Does that mean that after the Secretary of the Treasury is selected that the rest of the Cabinet will fall into line without any friction?"

"That is just the amount of it; but you must not understand me to say that I am the man who will clear up the Cabinet situation." Windom smiled as he made this remark.

Wants an Explanation.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The Sun has an article this morning criticising the management of the Illinois Central Railroad by Vice-President Harriman. The Sun prints a tabular of the showing made, from statements by the Illinois Central since 1882. From this it appears that $38,265,840 worth of the roads securities have been marketed; the disbursements of $26,918,807 are recorded, leaving a difference of $11,347,033, which remarkable discrepancy the Sun considers clearly the duty of Messrs. Harriman and Fish to explain.

All Quiet at Panama.

PANAMA, Feb. 15 (via Galveston).—A large number of laborers have been discharged from the canal works, a majority of whom left for the West Indies, Costa Rica and Chili. A limited amount of work continues on all sections of the canal, and a total suspension is not expected until the middle of March. On the 11th inst. the contractors and employees were paid an aggregate of between three and four hundred thousand silver dollars. A great many people are leaving the isthmus. Perfect order prevails.

Think They Have Him.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—A special from Kansas City says that H. L. Gorton, who is supposed to be the California stage-robbor, "Black Bart," was arrested here on Thursday night. Gorton denies being "Black Bart," but the police are sure he is the man.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 16.—H. L. Gorton, arrested here yesterday, alleged to be "Black Bart," the noted horse highwayman of California, is not "Black Bart," but may have robbed a stage in the West.

Thought to Have Gone Home.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Cecilia Miller, daughter of G. S. C. Miller, a wealthy richman of Prescott, Arizona, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. S. W. Riley of Normal Park, disappeared last Sunday, and she has not been seen since. Her friends are much distressed, but are inclined to believe that she returned to her western home, as she was very homesick.

Murder of Poor Women.

MASON CITY, Iowa, Feb. 16.—Meager details of a dreadful tragedy at Glenville, Minn., reached here this morning. Three young ladies went to the home of an old couple to spend the evening. At nine o'clock they started home, and had scarcely stepped outdoors when they were shot down by two ruffians. The old gentleman started to go for help, and, while gone, the fiends entered the house and killed the old lady.

Joseph Chemelke, 19 years old, was the murderer of the three women. His victims were Mrs. Phillip Chemelke, his sister-in-law, her sister Mary and their mother. Joe has been on bad terms with his brother's family. He got drunk last night and laid in wait for them. When the three girls came out of the house he shot them down, and went into the house and killed the old lady. The country round about is aroused, and young Chemelke will be lynched. One of the girls is dead and the others will die.

LATER.—The body of the murderer was found eighty rods from the house. He committed suicide, shooting himself in the head. The girl who escaped instant death has since died, making four deaths in all.

When Gets Away From Samoa.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—The steamship Mariposa arrived from Australia and the Samoan Islands this morning. Among the passengers is John C. Klien, the American newspaper correspondent, who has figured in the Berlin dispatches as having led the natives in the recent battle with the Germans on the islands, but who claims to have witnessed the fight as non-combatant, in his capacity as a correspondent. When martial law was declared on the islands by the Germans, an attempt was made by the latter to seize Klien, but he was rescued by the Americans and took passage on the Oceanic steamship, Mariposa, for this port. When the Mariposa left Samoa the islands were still under martial law, and German aggression had become very marked, and it is claimed to have been directed against the Americans as well as the natives.

The Mariposa left the Samoan Islands on February 1st. On that date none of the American men-of-war ordered to go to the islands had arrived, and the Germans, under the operation of martial law, were in complete control of the islands and had commenced the search of all vessels in Samoan waters; but, after seizing an English tourist named Gillan, on the steamer Packet Richmond, from Auckland, Captain Hand of the English war ship Royalist ordered the man released, and prepared for action. The Germans would not permit to be landed unless taken to a German storehouse and passed upon by a German official.

The Samoan Times was suppressed on January 19th for stating that but for German support all Samoans would join Mataafa, and that unless Bismarck was deceived, he would not attempt to enforce unpopular rule on the country. Prior to this, Cusack was fined $100 for reprinting certain American newspaper press comments on the Samoan situation.

Captain Fritz, the German Naval Commander, on January 23rd issued an order instructing all residents of Apia to turn over all guns or ammunition held by them, and proclaimed the right of search. Captain Mullan of the American man-of-war Nipsic protested against this action, stating that the American Government had never recognized Tamaeae, and that no power would allow them to seize arms unless used against a friendly nation. The Germans, acting as police in Apia, attempted to arrest Klien, but on the advice of the United States Consul, he went on board the Nipsic. On January 28, Captain Fritz made a demand on Captain Mullan to release Klein, that he might be tried before a German military tribunal. Captain Mullan replied that he proposed to protect all American citizens in Samoa, and that Klein would not be surrendered or tried. On February 1st he placed him on the Mariposa.

Heavy Loss by Fire.

MONTREAL, Feb. 15.—A terrible fire is raging here. The Ogilvie elevator and the rolling mills of Peck, Benny & Co. are already destroyed. The fire is still spreading, and the loss is now over $1,000,000.

A Terrible Crime.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Feb. 16.—A horrible crime is reported from Bertie county. Jacob Fancett, wife and a child one year old live near Mt. Olive. They had three negro women servants. Last Wednesday they had a row with their neighbors about a trivial matter, in which Fancett and wife and the negro women took part. Wednesday night Fancett was compelled to be away from home, and during the night several masked men entered the cabin, split open the heads of the mother and child with an axe and then killed two of the negroes. The third escaped and brought the news here. After the killing, the cabin was fired, and yesterday the charred remains of the poor victims were recovered from the ashes.

Opposed to Paying Taxes.

CHURCH'S FERRY, D. T., Feb. 16.—The Sheriff has had another tussle with the half-breeds in attempting to collect taxes. Yesterday he seized some horses belonging to a half-breed, but was overtaken before reaching town by an armed band of fifteen half-breeds, who took the horses and rode off. Late last night Company A of the Dakota National Guards, accompanied by the Sheriff, went to Dunsmuir, and will attempt to arrest those engaged in the scrimmage.

The Farnell Commission.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—In Soames' testimony before the Farnell Commission he said that Labouchere, in an interview, said the total amount of money which he paid Pigott was £50. He said he would not disclose any thing regarding the alleged attempt to bribe Pigott until he went into the witness box.

Appeal Refused.

DUBLIN, Feb. 16.—The Judges of the Court of Appeals refused to grant an order of appeal to William O'Brien against a recent sentence to four months' imprisonment for an offense under the Crimes Act.

Three Children Suffocated.

PORT HURON, Mich., Feb. 16.—Last night Mrs. Beeler's children, aged two, four and six years, set fire to the house in her absence. Two were suffocated, and the other is not expected to recover.

"Select" Gathering.

CHICAGO, February 16.—It is reported that Meyers and McAllister will fight in private to-night before a select company, who will pay roundly for the privilege of seeing the mill.

Safe Crackers.

H. M. Beck & Co.'s Safe Blown Open.

Safe crackers blew Beck & Co.'s safe open again last night, but did not get anything of great value. The smaller safe was blown open, but they did not succeed in getting into the larger one, they destroyed the lock so that a blacksmith had to be called to open it. From the tracks in the snow, Beck concludes that Sam Davis of the Carson Appeal had something to do with it.

Don't forget that in the Grand Restaurant, Reno has as fine a resort for those wanting a first-class meal as can be found this side of San Francisco.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Another Week Idle Away and Nothing Accomplished.
 CARSON CITY, Feb. 15, 1889.

EDITOR GAZETTE: Owing to the special election on last Monday and the awaiting of returns, a dull week has been the effect. The lottery advocates, particularly in Carson, have been positively insulting to those that even dared to object to the scheme in the slightest manner, even accusing parties of having received money from the Louisiana people to defeat the measure. It is, however, a poor rule that won't work both ways, and the view that is taken here by many sensible people is that it was a grand sell-out scheme by the projectors, providing the Louisiana people failed to have their charter renewed, and as a matter of speculation the scheme was a good one, as it is pretty well understood that the charter of the Louisiana Lottery will never be renewed by that State. The Carson advocates, with the Appeal as their champion, have openly vowed that they have it in for Reno, and intend to use what little energy they have left to defeat any measure appropriating money to State institutions at Reno, or any other measure that might be a benefit to Washoe county. It is the old Carson whine—Washoe killing Carson and Ormsby county—and is looked upon and considered as ridiculous by a majority of the members of the Legislature. Should such a thing happen, however, that the appropriations should not pass or should be cut down, it will give these parties a chance to crow, when, in truth, about the only thing that is seriously considered is the lack of funds to comply with all of the demands of the several State institutions. There is an animus shown by the lottery people that is entirely wrong, and will not redound to their credit.

THE SMALL-POX SCARE.

There was talk of adjourning the Legislature sine die, on account of the small-pox scare, and let the Governor, in his judgment, call a special session, but cooler judgment prevailed and no action was taken. The excitement has considerably subsided, and it is thought that no further progress of the disease will occur. The excitement has materially blocked legislation, and at this writing the two Houses are waiting developments and seem loath to proceed until more is known as to the outcome.

THE UNIVERSITY BILL.

Was before the Senate on Wednesday and Thursday, and took up most of the time. The Committee of the Whole reported it favorably and it still remains on file. A bill relating to the same institution providing for the transfer of money from the school fund to the University fund occupied most of the day yesterday, in the Assembly, and was passed, but upon a motion to reconsider to-day the bill was defeated. It is thought that the defeat of this measure will result disastrously to the University appropriation.

THE IRRIGATION PROBLEM.

Has not developed any new ideas particularly, and the lottery people give out the inference that the defeat of their pet scheme knocks the irrigation bills in the head, this is not altogether credited, as it has become a matter of vital importance to the State, and will no doubt be carefully considered before the adjournment of the Legislature.

THE AGRICULTURAL BILLS.

Have not been offered as yet, but it is reported that two bills have been framed, viz: One asking for an appropriation of $25,000 for the new track at Reno, and one to provide for the purchase of the old track. Opinions differ as to the measures, and nothing definite can be stated until the bills are presented.

Only twenty Legislative days remain, and much work is to be completed. The Assembly now convenes at 10 a. m., but the Senate has not changed their morning hour of meeting. The sessions of the House last from three to five hours a day, and evening sessions will likely be the order for next week. A few days more and the agency will be ended, and a summing up of the work accomplished, for the benefit of and detriment to the State, will be subject for comment for some time to come.

PERSONAL.

Judge Welton, Special Indian Inspector, is spending the day with General Irish.

Charley Smith of Beckwith is visiting his sisters, Mrs. Emmitt and Mrs. Fitzgerald.

During the temporary absence of landlord Parry, J. A. Fitzgerald is "standing in" at the Depot Hotel.

Five State Senators, C. C. Wallace, Warden McCullough, Deputy Secretary of State Ellis, and a dozen or fifteen others from Carson and Virginia City, went to the Bay last evening on some Masonic racket.

Beef Sales.

Schoenfeldt & Jones of San Francisco, took eighty head of James Miller's Long Valley cattle. The same firm also bought of George Humphrey fifty-four head of fine steers, one of which weighed 1,906 pounds. They also bought eighty head of Ayers & Poor.

Joseph Wheeler bought five carloads of prime beef from C. Derby and one car from Orrin Ross, for Foley, Heilbron & Co., San Francisco.

Too Bad.

The Journal puts it this way: "Some of our prominent business men need a lot of new rubber stamps. Their billheads look very seedy."

The GAZETTE would suggest that a subscription be taken up to buy them a new outfit.

Stock shipments.

This morning Schoenfeldt & Jones shipped 17 cars of beef cattle to their firm in San Francisco, and Joseph Wheeler shipped six cars to Foley, Heilbron & Co., same place.

BREVITIES.

Local and General Intelligence.
 R. H. Lindsay's little daughter is reported better.

Yesterday the Legislature adjourned over until Monday.

Last evening's west bound overland was two hours and a half late.

In the Savings Bank case of Frey et al. vs. Thompson, the Supreme Court affirmed the decision of the District Court.

McTigue, recently convicted of manslaughter at Hawthorne, has been delivered at the State Prison to serve out his ten-year sentence.

The Good Templars of Reno had a supper and dance at the Nevada Theater last evening, which was greatly enjoyed by all present.

SHOULD BE SUPPRESSED.

A Tribute to Reno's Rising Generation.
 RENO, Nev., Feb. 16, 1889.

EDITOR GAZETTE: Now that the serious annoyance of the "high hat" has been settled through the noble efforts of our learned statesmen, we would like to suggest through the columns of your paper, that a bill be presented before the Legislature for the maintenance of order and respect in our theaters, and also that a suitable place be provided, (say a kindergarten school) for the accommodation of young men of twenty years or more, such as amused themselves during Madame Urban's concert last evening, by playing hide and seek in the gallery and private boxes, throwing beans, humming snatches of "Home, Sweet Home," "Swanee River," making cat-calls, etc., to their great pleasure and to the extreme annoyance of those who were there to listen to and encourage home talent. Had Madame Urban dropped the curtain upon the audience who tolerated such disrespect, it would have been a fitting rebuke. Instead of which, however, every number in the programme was faithfully given. Truly Reno should be proud of some of her young men.

PATRON.

"THE KING'S FOOL."

At McManis's Opera House Tuesday Night.

At the Opera House next Tuesday night the Comedie Company will appear in the romantic opera entitled "The King's Fool." The plot of the piece is of absorbing interest, and the music pure and strong. It is a good solid piece, far above the ordinary light and trashy operas of which we have had a surfeit. Even the first act contains a strong scene, and much that follows show great pathos and tenderness. There is also much that is laughable and droll. An attractive feature is that in which appear the Viennese female fencers. They do some good work, and work that would make them dangerous were swords placed in their hands and an enemy before them. The scenery carried by the company is fine and the stage setting excellent.

The box sheet is now open. There is sure to be a packed house.

Katie Putnam and Billy Emerson at the Opera House To-night.

The Putnam-Emerson Company arrived this morning and will be seen in the comedy drama, "Erma, the Elf," at the opera house to-night.

This is a rare treat for our theatergoers, and there is little doubt but what enough people will take advantage of it to fill every seat in the theater. Mr. Emerson in white face in the dramatic world, is precisely what Mr. Booth would be blacked up and appearing in the comic world.

Katie Putnam is without doubt the best known and most popular comedienne on the stage to-day, and her company is first-class and complete throughout. They will leave on the early morning train for Salt Lake City, appearing there Monday night.

San Francisco Meat Market.

"To Be or Not To Be"
 so'loquized the melancholy Dane. A sea of troubles opposed. He shrank before them; ambition lay dead. Life, as he viewed it, rested under a yellow cloud, tinged with green. Hamlet to my mind, was bilious. The blood, diseased, carried through the natural gates and alleys of the body, made life a burden; and the life of the body magnified in a tenfold degree his other ills.

Purify the blood, give new life and action to the system! take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and your drowsiness, lack of appetite, chilly sensations, yellow skin, bad breath, will all depart, as the morbid miasms are dispelled by the rising sun.

Tousands of cases follow the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. 50 cents.
